An Opinion That The Dispensary is The Right Thing.

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Old Friend—If I had time I would run up to Greensboro just to give you a hearty handshake for the manly efforts you are making to build up your town.

The dispensary is a move in the right direction. No town or city is on a sclid foundation whose people are immoral and the solidity of the foundation is in proportion to the moral character of the people. I do not think you need help, but since I read Mr. Cone's article in the Telegram, I have somewhat to say:

I understand that Mr. Cone is connected with a large cotton mill in or near Greensboro, and that Summit avenue was built by the city through a large number of building lots owned by Mr. Cone. I understand Mr. Cone specifies in every deed he makes the purpose for which said lot shall be used, giving as a reason that some one might build a barrom near some other lot and thereby injure the sale of his property. It looks to me from this distance that Mr. Cone really thinks open saloons decreases the property value.

His second proposition, "Dispensary interferes with individual rights," sounds funny coming from a man who reserves the right to dictate what shall be built on ground bought from him, and I laughed when I read on, "We all know that when the dispensary is established those of us opposed to it will agitate for its discontinuance. All of which will be bad for the town." If such agitation hurts the town and he has the interest of the town at heart, why in the world does he threaten to agitate it. Looks like he intends to interfere with other people's "personal rights."

He says three years ago property had no value, today it has. You had saloons three years ago, so I fail to see the point, unless it is to show that saloons have nothing to do with enhancing the value of property.

I have a higher and better opinion of Greensbor than to think she will sit still and let Ralergh, Durham, Winston and Charlotte set the pace for her, even if they do "enjoy the privileges of advanced (?) civilization." No sir, Mr. Editor, Greensboro has a better reputation than that away from home. She is known as a wide-awake progressive up-to-date city, one that does the right things for herself and says to other sister cities, follow me.

Now sir, I am an uncompromising prohibitionist, but I recognize the fact that no law can be enforced that is not backed up by public sentiment, and public sentiment is only made by education. The dispensary is the finest educator of public sentiment toward temperance and prohibition I know of. Therefore I am for the dispensary. I pray God's blessings upon your efforts to establish one in your progressive up-to-date town.

Yours truly,
Jas. H. Frizzelle.

BACK FROM THE WAR.

A Few of the Black Braves Returned Last Night.

A few of the Greensboro boys in the Third North Carolina regiment came home last night from Macon, where the regiment is being mustered out on the instalment plan—two companies at a time. Only about half a dozen of the Greensboro boys came in yesterday, they being scattered among the other companies it seems. And they do say the black, brave warriors tried to do the cannibal act in Atlanta. A caboose car had to be attached to the train as a safe retreat for the train crew.

The soldiers got boiling drunk in Atlanta, and on the train after leaving there, fought, cursed and shot their pistols in the cars.

The crowd quieted down considerably after passing Blacksburg, as the effects of the whiskey consumed since their departure from Macon, had worn off.

We are glad to know that so few of the Greensboro ex-soldiers were in the rough and rowdy crowd who terrorized the train crew. Captain Dave Gilmer, we believe has a well diciplined company that is a credit to him, and we may not expect to hear such bad reports when his detachment comes home, which will be several days.

George Numford, one of the Greensboro company, who came last night, was arrested soon after reaching here. He is accused by Henry Martin of stealing some money from while he (Henry) was on the train.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL

Has at Last Been Taken up in the House.

SOME AMENDMENTS WANTED.

But There is no Chance of Securing Them in the House—Will Depend Upon the Senate.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Feb. 2—The river and harbor bill has at last been taken up in the house of representatives, and before the end of the week will be sent to the senate. Most of the day yesterday was taken up with the general debate, after which the reading of the bill by sections for amendments was begun, As is usually the case with legislation in the house of representatives, no opportunity is accorded for the offering of amendments, outside of the committee amendments. On the part of the Southern States, and many of the states bordering on the upper Missouri river, there is much desire to add features of local importance to the measure. The North Carolina delegation are particularly interested in the securing of the appropriation for the improvement of the Dismal Swamp canal, which is also desired by members of the Virginia delegation. So far as the house is concerned, there is no chance for the amendment, if it is offered, getting into the bill.

Most of the Southern States, including the delegations from Florida and South Carolina, will not offer amendments to add local features during the the consideration of the bill in the house, but will depend upon the senate committee on commerce to correct the measure, and to add improvements which are of importance to the Southern State. The senate is usually more liberal in the matter of appropriations than is the house, and the southern representatives hope that the senate will be more disposed to listen to them.

When the bill reaches the senate, it will be referred to the committee on commerce. The committee will grant hearings to different state delegations which desire to be heard, as was done by the house committee on rivers and harbors.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, is booked for a speech in the senate on the Philippine resolutions. He will take the floor tomorrow during the afternoon, after the completion of the routine business. He will be proceeded by Senator Money, of Mississippi. As Senator Daniel is considered to be one of the best speakers in the United States Senate, his speech on the Philippine resolutions will be listened to with more than passing interest. The fact too that the senator has just returned from a visit to Cuba, adds to the interest taken in his deliverances upon the future government of the new dependencies. The senator will advocate the Vest resolutions.

On behalf of citizens of Tippecanoe, and Coinjock, North Carolina, Senator Butler, has presented a petition asking for the establishment of postal savings bank depositories. The first petition is signed by John W. Williams, and 202 other citizens, while the latter is signed by T. P. Hall, and 129 other persons.

Senator Butler has also presented a petition of the legislature referred to the other day, asking for the establishment of a light beacon at the Cape Channel, in Pamlico Sound.

Senator Pritchard from the senate committee on pensions has made a favorable report on the bill to increase the pension of Susan C. Byrd, widow of a Mexican war soldier. A favorable report has also been made on bill to pension Mary E. Townes.

Judge Edmund Waddill, of the circuit court for the eastern district, of Virginia, was at the Ebbitt house yesterday morning. The Judge came to Washington from Richmond, and was accompanied by Mrs. Waddill and their daughter, Miss May. Later in the day they went down to Alexandria, where the judge is to hold a special session of the circuit court for the purpose of proceeding with the trial in admiralty of the Norfolk and Washington steamboat company, growing out of a collision between the ferry steamer Columbia, and the Norfolk steamer Newport News, in September, 1897.

RALEIGH CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

New Methodist Paper Incorporated and Officers Elected.

The new Methodist paper which is to be published in this city has been christened the "Raleigh Christian Advocate." The editor, Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, has arrived in the city and the first issue of the paper will appear February 15th.

Articles of incorporation were issued by the secretary of the state yesterday to the following stockholders who are the incorporators: Rev. N. M. Watson, of Greenville; J. G. Brown, J. S. Wynne, F. P. Brown, of Raleigh; R. B. Johns, of Newbern; Dr. J. F. Miller, of Goldsboro; M. T. Plyler, of Plymouth J. W. Jenkins, of Smithfield; B. H. Black, of Fayetteville, and B. N. Duke, of Durham. The Advocate Company is incorporated for a term of thirty years, and the capital stock is $10,000.

The stockholders had their first meeting yesterday, and elected the following directors: Rev. N. M. Watson, Rev. R. B. Johns, Rev. J. W. Jenkins and Mr. Joseph G. Brown. The directors elected the following officers:

J. S. Wynne, president.
Dr. J. F. Miller, vice-president.
F. P. Brown, secretary.
Rev. N. M. Watson, treasurer.

The executive committee was chosen as follows: Joseph G. Brown, Rev. N. M. Watson and J. S. Wynne.—Morning Post.

Handsome and Spacious.

Mrs. Weill's beautiful new building numbers 314 and 316 South Elm street, has been completed and the Merchants Grocery Company, who have leased it for a term of five years, are moving their mammoth stock into the building today. The building is four stories, 31x137 feet with a cellar 31x40 feet making a total of 17,228 square feet of floor space. The Merchants' Grocery company has been crowded to the utmost for some time and have waited anxiously for the time to come when they could occupy their new quarters. The Telegram congratulates the company on their new quarters and hopes that they may soon grow crowded again.

Half Week of Pure Fun.

The Whitney players will hold the boards at the academy of music to-night, tomorrow and Saturday with special ladies and children's matinee Saturday a 2:30 o'clock. This company comes with the best of names. They have just finished a fine engagement in Atlanta to big houses and the Atlanta papers give them high praise. A company would not come to Greensboro for a three nights stand unless they gave delightful performances. They will stage every play just as it was done in Atlanta, Macon, Mobile and New Orleans. Prices 10, 20 and 30c. Ladies admitted free tonight when accompanied by an escort with a paid 30c ticket.

Only One Chance.

The thief who, about three weeks ago, broke into the Southern ticket office here and secured something over one hundred and fifty dollars in cold cash, was evidently much pleased with his easy haul and yesterday he, or some one else, tried to repeat the theft. Between 1:40 and 2:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon the office was entered in the same manner as before—by forcing the catch of the lock, off the door with a chisel. This was very easily accomplished but the thief found only fifty-three coppers and these were not taken. He went off and left Mr. Graham the chisel.

He Breaks the Record.

Greensboro has often been visited by gypsy fortune tellers and other people who claim to tell you what you have done in the past and what you will do in the future, but at last one has been found within the borders of the city of flowers, who, as a clairvoyant, surpasseth all gypsies, as well as all understanding. Last night he gave an exhibition to a party of ladies and gentlemen at a boarding house, and his skill was astonishing. The correctness with which he read their past was wonderful, but his subjects are not quite sure what the future has in store.

Sadly Afflicted.

'Squire J. R. Pearce, while custodian of the public building here, ran across a name, the unprecedented length of which he thought justified him in copying it. The owner lives in Somers township, Wilkes county, and the name runs as follows: Mary Rementa Olla Sirdentia Laura Sussetta Missouria Georgiana Johnnie Pressley Rhoda Durietta Jane Cornelia Bailey Perdue.

Facts That Shine Out.

However the facts may be glossed over, the war, brief as it was, disclosed conditions in the military service which are not creditable to the country. Those who did the fighting increased the fame of America, but some of the men in high places did not enhance the national glory.—Des Moines Leader.

Filipinos Want to Fly Their Flag in Philippine Waters.

AMERICANS SEIZE TELEGRAPH.

Filipino Operators Were Caught Transmitting General Otis' Secret Orders and Arrested.

By Cable to the TELEGRAM.

Hong Kong, Feb. 2—Filipino members of the joint commission at Manila have formally demanded the launches seized by the Americans, also that they be permitted to fly the Filipino flag in Philippine waters. General Otis is reported to be favorable to granting their request; but Admiral Dewey has refused, not wishing to put himself in position to be obliged to employ searchlights to discover the movements of the Filipinos. The use of the Filipino flag will be permitted ashore and several are flying over native houses. A dozen natives have been arrested for secretly manufacturing bolas (native weapons) at Manila.

SEIZED THE TELEGRAPH.

Manila, Feb. 2—The Americans have seized the Filipinos' telegraph office connecting with all parts of Luzon, and the operators have been arrested. They were discovered transmitting General Otis' secret orders to the Philippine government at Manila. How they were obtained is a mystery.

Two guns of the Utah artillery have been placed in position on Santa Mosa hill overlooking the waterworks. There is no evidence that the Filipinos intend to begin hostilities, but it is practically certain that they will resist if the Americans attempt to force matters.

The radical independence element now dominates the government at Malotos. Since the killing of the Filipino officer Belmonte by the American guard, American officers have not ventured outside of Manila. Foreigners are not permitted to travel in the interior without passes signed by Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader.

Supplies for Dewey.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 2—The supply ship Solace, left the navy yard this morning bound for Manila, carrying seven army officers and fifteen cadets from Annapolis, together with a large cargo of supplies for Admiral Dewey and the American army in the Philippines. The Solace will call at Norfolk and complete her cargo and receive additional orders.

Address all communications to THE EVENING TELEGRAM, Greensboro, N. C.

THURSDAY, FEB. 2, 1899.

In another place today we print a letter from our old friend Rev. Jas. H. Frizelle, giving his views on the dispensary question.

Winter is only half gone, according to the ground hog legend. You know it is said that on the second day of February the ground hog comes out of his hole and if he sees his shadow, that is, if the sun is shining, he immediately goes back, knowing the cold weather is only half gone. Make a note of this and test the saying.

To those who think we have had enough of the dispensary agitation we would say that our columns are also open for communications on the proposed $300,000 bond issue and we will further say that this bond issue is a live topic and it is getting time to discuss it; but it is not necessary to side-track one live issue to discuss another. Greensboro is too b'g and broad-guaged for that.

We understand that a question has been raised about the names mentioned as being at this office to whom parties may write to South Carolina regarding the dispensary. Yes, they are here and will be furnished to any one who will take the trouble to call for them. Investigate it. That's what dispensary advocates want. They desire to keep nothing hid or covered up. The fullest investigation is desired.

In villages, where every man thinks he ought to dictate the policy of everything and "run the town" it is dangerous for a newspaper to champion either side of an important question. The editor must straddle the fence and walk on both sides, or wait until the thing is decided and then fall in with a shout and exclaim: "We were right." And such a condition is always pitiably disgusting to broad-minded people.

Speaking of the probability of the failure to confirm Judge Ewart, the Charlotte Observer asks "how are the President and senate to do any better among western North Carolina republicans?" If we may be allowed to answer that question we'll say that for genuine ability Greensboro has some republican lawyers who could easily fill the bill. Hon. Thomas Settle, for instance. Or, if it were not for his extreme youth, we would suggest that a worse selection might be made than our neighbor Robert D. Douglas.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe,

George W. Waitt of South Gardiner, Mo., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vender. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by C. E. Holton.

Arranging For a Fight.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 1—Tom O'Rourke said tonight: "I have forwarded a certified check for $2,500 to New York to bind a match between Tom Sharkey and Bob Fitzsimmons before the club offering the largest purse, the referee and conditions to be mutually agreed upon as soon as a club makes an offer."

For La Grippe

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 250 Wabash ave., corner Jackson st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. MILES HAS PROOF.

Letters From Men Who Saw the Beef Embalmed.

New York, Jan. 31—General Nelson A. Miles gave out a statement tonight, after having denied several published interviews attributed to him. He prefaced his statement by saying:

"I have been most freely quoted without authority from me or without any utterance on my part. It has been a source of great annoyance to me."

His statement is as follows:

"On the twentieth of last September I issued an order to regimental commanders to report to me concerning the beef which had been issued to their men. At the time that I went before the war investigating commission I had only received reports from fourteen of the commanders. Now I have thirty reports. They all tell the same story. The evidence proves the truth of the statements which I made. In addition to the reports of the regimental commanders I have a great mass of evidence, consisting of communications, affidavits, etc., from officers, soldiers and civilians. Every part of the country has contributed to the mass of correspondence which I have received in reference to the beef served to our soldiers, and the evidence is all corroborative of what I have said. The great publicity which the press has given to the matter has brought all the correspondence of which I speak, upon me.

"I have overwhelming evidence that the embalmed beef was treated with chemicals in order to preserve it. I have affidavits from men who saw the beef undergoing the treatment or embalming process.

"Now as to the canned roast beef that was different from the embalmed beef. The canned roast beef was the beef after the extract had been boiled out of it. You have seen the advertisements 'Beef Extract; one pound contains the substance of from four to five pounds of prime beef.' Well, this is the beef after the extract has been taken from it. They put this beef pulp in cans and label it 'canned roast beef.' The soldiers report that the canned beef was nauseating. If swallowed it could not be kept on the stomach."

It was pointed out to General Miles that he had been quoted as having said that if the men who supplied the beef would deposit a thousand dollars in such a way that it could be made to pay the cost of the proceedings he would furnish absolute proof of the assertion. He was asked what tribunal he had in mind, or to whom he would furnish this proof, and in reply said:

"I made that statement in response to the offer of the beef men to pay $100,000 for evidence of the truth of my allegations against their product. I looked on their offer as a bluff and took that way of answering it. I have no tribunal in mind. I have the greatest abundance of evidence to support the charges I made, and do not think that any part of the thousand dollars need be spent in any more investigations."

General Miles has received a telegram from Colonel A. A. Pope, of Boston, requesting General Miles to draw on him for $1,000 to prove that chemicals were used to embalm beef furnished to soldiers, but this offer will not be accepted for the reasons already given.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Elden, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. Howard Gardner.

Danger in Calcium Carbide.

Superintendent Murray of the bureau of combustibles, has made regulations governing the transportation, storage and sale of calcium carbide, which the firemen declare to be a source of danger in a burning building, because when water reaches it acetylene gas is given off. A number of stores keep it for use in bicycle lamps. Hereafter, in transit or on storage, it must be inclosed in hermetically sealed iron receptacles marked "dangerous, if not kept dry." No package may contain more than 100 pounds. It must be stored in isolated buildings that are fireproof and waterproof. No artificial light or heat will be permitted in the building where it is stored. The Sure La Grippe Cure.

There is no use suffering from this dreadful malady, if you will only get the right remedy. You are having pain all through your body, your liver is out of order, have no appetite, no life or ambition, have a bad cold, in fact are completely used up. Electric Bitters is the only remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly on your liver, stomach and kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at C. E. Holton's drug store. Only 50 cents per bottle.

A TRAPPED BURGLAR

THE NICELY PREPARED BAIT WAS EAGERLY TAKEN.

It Cost the Ingenious Man Who Devised the Scheme $400 or $500, and It Cost the Burglar Four Years' Time.

"Of course," said the retired burglar, "a man in my business is always on the lookout for traps and most of 'em he can circumvent without much trouble. But men go to a lot of trouble and expense to lay traps, and sometimes they get up something that is new and effective. I suppose that any man going into a dwelling house would be sure to look over the bureaus and dressing tables in the sleeping rooms. It was this well known professional habit no doubt that had suggested the idea of a trap I came across once, which a man had had built with a view to catching anybody that might stand in front of the bureau in his room.

"I imagine that this man must have been visited before and been very much irritated by it, because he never could have gone to all the trouble and expense he did just for mere protection—there was clearly some feeling in it. It was a handsome room, promising looking from its richness, and when I turned my light on the bureau, where I went, naturally enough, to begin, I was not disappointed. There was a glitter of glass and silver in the bullseye, and as I swept the light along it struck a pocketbook that didn't glitter much, but that looked fat and comfortable, and a watch that did shine, and, take it altogether, it made me think that here was the home of a man that didn't have to work nights to make both ends meet. And so I set my lamp down on one end of the bureau—it made me laugh, actually, to think that there was so much good stuff there that I had to shove something one side to make room for it—and put my bag down on a chair that was there and began cleaning the things off.

"I'd just put the silver hairbrushes in the bag and had turned around to the bureau again to pick up the pocketbook and the watch when I heard, or it seemed as though I felt, a little click, and just the faintest touch of a jarring or yielding under my feet, and the next instant, a long time before I could jump or do anything whatever, a piece of the floor under my feet about three feet square dropped out from under me, and down I went.

"But I didn't give up, by a long shot. I was an ablebodied man, and my hands were free—my lamp being then on the corner of the bureau and my bag on the chair—and I wasn't going to give it up yet, if I was going down a trap. The trapdoor was hung on hinges on the side farthest from the bureau, and I laughed to myself as I put up my hands and thought how easy it was to grab on to the edge of the solid floor running along just in front of the bureau and haul myself up. Truly it seemed like a waste of money, all the expense this man had been to to put in the trap without guarding against the chance of escape from it by just this means, and I already imagined myself climbing out as I threw up my hands, which I did before I'd dropped much more'n half of my length below the level of the floor, gripping that firm edge very tightly. I was going to make sure of that.

"And I got it all right, but in about a millionth part of a second I became conscious of the fact that it wasn't stopping me at all; I was carrying it down with me. It was the front edge of another trap cut in the floor under the bureau, hinged at the back and held up in place by a spring just strong enough to keep it in position. I held on as hard as I could, but if I had had iron fingers and steel muscles I couldn't have held on after the trap had swung down straight. I went down like a ton of lead, and the next minute I found myself sliding through a smooth board tunnel not much bigger'n enough to let me slide comfortably, and the next minute I'd been shot into a box or room about seven feet square through another trap in the top of it that closed flush after I came through.

"Now, there was a situation for you. Me in a square box of hard pine, apparently in the cellar of the house, no opening in it anywhere and my bag with all my tools in it up there on the chair by the bureau and me down there with nothing, not a blessed thing, to work with. But while there's life there's hope, and I never should have thought of such a thing as giving up if I could have had a chance. But I didn't. I hadn't been in the box two minutes before there was a slide pushed back up near the top on one side, and a man looked in. It was the boss of the shanty. And in five minutes the police were there, and then I found they had a door in this box big enough to get a man out of.

"I have seen other traps as elaborate, but none more costly. He had to cut his carpet, to begin with, around the traps in this room. Of course that didn't cost anything much, but it spoiled his carpet, and then the cost of the traps and the time contrivance, whatever it was, that was attached to the main trap that let me stand on it for a minute or two before it dropped, and then the shoot and the box and the whole business couldn't have cost a cent less than $400 or $500. It cost me four years' time."—New York Sun.

The Honeymoon.

An early Anglo-Saxon custom, strictly followed by newly married couples, was that of drinking diluted honey for 30 days after marriage. From this custom comes the word honeymoon or honeymonth.

NORTH CAROLINA,
GUILFORD COUNTY.

By virtue of the powers conferred upon me in a certain order made by the Superior Court of Guilford county in a cause therein pending, entitled Mrs Nellie Albright, et al., ex parte, I will, as commissioner, sell at the court house door in Greensboro on the first Monday in March, (it being the sixth day) to the highest bidder at public auction, for cash, the following described land and premises, to-wit:

A house and lot on Cedar street, in the city of Greensboro and fronting on said street 82½ feet and running back about 200 feet and adjoining the lands of T. M. Pickard on the north, Bob Aiken on the south, J. W. Richardson on the west, and others, containing one-half of one acre, more or less. Upon which is situated a nice five room cottage, good well and a barn. It being the home place of Joe Albright, deceased.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The Deadly Grip

Is again abroad in the land. The air you breathe may be full of its fatal germs! Don't neglect the "Grip" or you will open the door to Pneumonia and Consumption and invite death. Its sure signs are chills with fever, headache, dull heavy pains, mucous discharges from the nose, sore throat and never-let-go cough. Don't waste precious time treating this cough with troches, tablets, or poor, cheap syrups. Cure it at once with Dr. King's New Discovery, the infallible remedy for bronchial troubles. It kills the disease germs, heals the lungs and prevents the dreaded after effects from the malady. Price 50c and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at C. E. Holton's drugstore.

To Our Friends and Patrons:

In closing our books for the year 1898 we find we have quite a number of small accounts which in themselves are trivial, but she aggregate would make quite a nice sum. While we wish to be obliging and courteous to our customers and try ro please all, we must insist upon getting our business upon more of a Cash Basis.

To open so many small accounts involves quite an amount of book keeping and consumes too much valuable time. This can bo avoided by paying cash for your bundle when delivered and do away with all possibility of disputed accounts.

Thanking our customers for their patronage in the past, and extending to each and every one the greetings of the season.

HE FACED GREAT DANGER.

But, Not Knowing It, He Escaped Being Considered Brave.

"I noticed a couple of reminiscences as to my old branch of service," said an ex-naval official to the writer, "which reminded me of an incident in my own career. I was an assistant engineer on a cruiser bound from Norfolk to South American ports, and our ship was telling off 14 or 15 knots an hour one day, when a crank pin came out, and the next instant the crank was thrashing around in a most recklessly unsystematic fashion. Everybody in the engine room—and there were some men of considerable rank there just then, as it happened—made a dash for the deck. Meanwhile I quietly took four or five steps and shut off the steam. Of course the engines stopped, and then followed the delay caused by making the necessary repairs.

"It didn't occur to me that I had performed any act of an especial character until the chief engineer informed me that I was a confounded fool. 'Don't you know your place under such circumstances, sir?' he asked, and when I answered that I thought I had taken my proper position he continued: "No, sir; your duty was to make your way as soon as possible to the deck. With that piece of steel whirling and crashing about it was one chance in a thousand that a single soul would escape an instantaneous cooking, because if that thing had carried away the steam connections your life would have ended right then.'

"'Well, I took the chance,' I answered.

"'Yes, sir, you did, but you didn't know it, therefore it is not at all to your credit,' was the chief's answer, and it was so absolutely true that I couldn't for the life of me make any reply."—Detroit Free Press.

THE POWER OF WILL.

He Wanted to Live Four Days, and He Succeeded.

It would be vain to attempt to describe the sympathy for the poor and suffering which William Stokes could throw into his voice, says his biographer. One of the stories he used to tell is of peculiar interest, not only for its revelation of human kindness, but as a proof of the power of the will in prolonging life.

An old pensioner was a patient of Stokes in the Meath hospital. His life was despaired of, and, in fact, his death was hourly expected. One morning, having many patients to care for and believing that the pensioner was unconscious and past help, Dr. Stokes passed his bed without stopping. The patient was greatly distressed and cried out:

"Don't pass me by, docther; you must keep me alive for four days."

"We will keep you as long as we can, my poor fellow," answered Stokes, "but why for four days particularly?"

"Because," was the reply, "my pension will be due then, and I want the money for my wife and children. Don't give me anything to make me sleep, for if I sleep I shall die."

On the third day after this, to the amazement of Stokes and others, the patient was still breathing. On the morning of the fourth day he was alive and conscious, and on entering the ward Stokes saw him holding in his hand the certificate which required signature. As the doctor drew near the dying man gasped:

"Sign, sign!"

The doctor quickly complied, and the man sank back exhausted and within a few minutes crossed his hands over his breast and said, "The Lord have mercy on my soul," and quietly breathed his last.

Where He Repaired It.

When illicit distilling was common in the highlands, there was an old man who went about the country repairing whisky pots.

The gauger met him one day and, surmising that he had been doing repairs at no great distance, asked what he would take to inform him (the gauger) where he repaired the last whisky pot.

"Och," said the old man, "she'll shust tak' hauf a croon."

"Done!" retorted the gauger. "Here is your money, but be careful to tell me correctly."

"Och, she'll no' tell the gentleman a lee."

Getting the money, the old man quietly remarked:

"I shust mended the last whisky pot where the hole was."—London Spare Moments.

Ingenious.

"My wife is the most ingenious woman who ever lived," said Kipper.

"I believe you," returned Nipper politely.

"But you don't know why you believe me," intimated Kipper.

"To tell the truth, I don't." replied Nipper, looking bored.

"Well, I'll tell you. We've been married 12 years and lived in the same house all the time, and this morning she found a new place in which to hide my slippers."—London Standard.

No Wonder Russia Is Ignorant!

Russia, with her population of 129,000,000, has only 748 newspapers, but little more than half the number published in the state of Pennsylvania, which is 1,480. Of the 748 there are 589 printed in Russian, 69 in Polish, 44 in German, 9 in French, 5 in Armenian and 2 in Hebrew. No English newspaper appears in the list.

The earliest known mention of the pianoforte was in a playbill dated May 16, 1767. The principal attraction was given thus: "Miss Buckler will sing a song from 'Judith,' accompanied by a new instrument called pianoforte."

THE GAME OF QUOITS.

CAN BE PLAYED ANY PLACE AND IS SPLENDID EXERCISE.

It Is a Very Ancient English Pastime, and Its Beginnings Are Lost In the Mist of Ages—Fine Training For the Eye and Arm.

There are some games which have never had their boom, and quoits is one of them. Still, as nothing happens but the unexpected, it may be that the time is nearly ripe for quoits to be taken out of its undeserved obscurity, to be exalted to the status of a national game, to have weekly papers named after it and to have columns in the sporting press devoted to the doings of its champions. Stranger things have happened. Who, for instance, would have said when at the end of the sixties a few energetic sportsmen went wobbling about on bone shaking bicycles which it would have been far easier to push than to ride that at the end of the century considerably more than 100,000 bicycles would be manufactured annually in Great Britain alone and that a great part of the population would adopt this means of locomotion? One cannot imagine that quoits will ever attain such popularity as the bicycle, but the unprejudiced person can see no reason why it should not become as favorite a pastime as golf, which a very few years ago was almost unheard of south of the Tweed.

Quoits is a very fine game, especially in the winter time. It is splendid exercise and trains the eye and the hand to act together in a way that few other sports can do, for the very essence of it is accuracy of aim at a mark placed below the level of the hand. It has been objected that throwing quoits makes the player lopsided, but, after all, that is easily remedied, for there is nothing to prevent the player throwing the quoit with his left hand if he so pleases, and such a change would make a variation in the game and also afford an excellent method of handicapping the men of unequal skill. Quoits strengthens the arms and shoulders, but it is not a pastime which primarily demands strength.

A great advantage of the game is that it can be played in any small space and that the ground need not be particularly level. Any rough field or waste bit of ground is good enough for a quoits pitch, and no rolling or cutting is required to satisfy the demands of the most exigent. For cricket you need a carefully prepared wicket, for lawn tennis and croquet a piece of turf like a billiard table and for golf the best part of a country all to yourself, but for quoits you only need a few yards of rough ground, and you have as good a place for throwing as any one can possibly require.

People certainly might play quoits more than they do, but the taking up of a game is usually a matter of fancy, and perhaps two things stand in the way of quoits. First, there is an idea that it is a "rustic" sport and can only be played by the rough country lads, and, second, there is the legend that the game is derived from the classical discus throwing, a suspicion which it must be confessed is enough to throw a slur on any well regulated game.

No treatise on quoits can begin without the time honored pedigree of the quoit from the discus. Strutt, who lived at the end of the last century, of course dealt with it, and equally of course he dragged in the discus even if he did not invent the descent of quoits from the sports of ancient Greece. The thing, of course, is absurd. To make a discus, the artisan did not, in the words of the immortal Irishman, take a hole and put some iron around it. The discus was more like a flattened Dutch cheese and was a solid missile. Moreover, it was not held in the same manner as a quoit, but was bowled underhand, in which indeed it alone differs from putting the weight. That quoits is now played chiefly in the country is the fault of those who do not play it and bring it into fashion.

It is no doubt a very ancient English game, and its beginnings are lost in the mist of ages. Hakluyt mentions it in his book of "Voyages," so it was well known in Queen Elizabeth's time, when it probably was one of the favorite sports of Merrie England. In some parts of the country the rustics used to employ horseshoes for want of properly made quoits, and there are districts in which the quoit is called a "shoe" even to this day. This gives us the clew to the most probable origin of the sport and hints that the first game of quoits was started by throwing old horseshoes at the hob or mark, and from this gradually grew up the practice of having quoits specially made for throwing. So much for the discus legend. As for the word "quoit" itself, its etymology is more than doubtful, and it gives us no clew whatever to the origin of the game.

Shakespeare, who mentions everything except tobacco, of course has a reference to the sport, and as Hakluyt was a contemporary of his it may be held to show that the spacious times of Great Elizabeth were the palmy period of quoits. It is true that he does not speak of the sport in very reputable connection, for the only mention of it occurs in the scene in which Prince Henry, Falstaff, Poins and the rest were in the Boar's Head tavern, in Eastchepe. Falstaff, in giving a character sketch of the young prince, observes that he plays quoits well, but the context very clearly shows that in Queen Elizabeth's time at any rate quoit playing was looked down upon as the idle man's recreation, much as skittles is with us. That fat Jack Falstaff, disreputable old fellow as he was, meant to imply no good of the prince by his reference to quoits is very evident. This is the only reference to quoits in Shakespeare, and it is a libel, though the sting is taken out of it by the fact that it is put into the mouth of Falstaff.—Physical Culture.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2.20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jeckyl Island are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York ond Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jekyl Island. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thweatt, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

Spanish Prisoners Freed.

Madrid, Feb. 1—A dispatch received from General Rios, the Spanish officer in command of the troops of Spain in the Philippine islands, says that troops imprisoned on the island of Negros, have been released by the insurgents and have arrived at Samboanga, the town on the southwest extremity of the Island of Mindanao, of the Philippine group.

No Decision Reached.

Madrid, Feb. 1—The cabinet council today decided that Premier Sagasta shall fix the date for the assembling of Cortes. The question of suspension of the constitutional guarantees was also considered but no decision was reached.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

J. W. Merritt went to Winston at noon.

C. E. Moore went to Mocksville at noon.

Dr. Chas. D. McIver went to Raleigh at noon today.

D. W. Robertson returned from High Point at noon.

W. H. Ragan, of High Point passed through at noon enroute to Raleigh.

C. G. Wright and Maj. Charles M. Stedman returned from Raleigh at noon today.

Mrs. B. S. Phillips returned at noon today from a three weeks visit to her parents at Bristol, Tenn.

John Rankin, the popular young salesman for Messrs. J. M. Hendrix & Co., is confined to his home with the "grip."

The Whitney Players who hold the boards at the academy of music the rest of the week, arrived this morning and are stopping at the McAdoo.

If you want to buy a choice home, built of first class material, in a beautiful location, read the ad of G. T. Kearsley & Co., in penny column.

W, W. Wood, of the Berger-Wood Tobacco company, left at noon today for Wilmington to "whoop up" Wild Turkey and Home Plate, two leading brands.

Miss Fannie Jones, of Mt. Olive, N. C., who has been visiting Miss Bertha Edgerton on East Washington street, went to Guilford College today to visit her sister, Mrs. George Edgerton.

Mr. Wilbur Atkinson, who, it will be remembered, was here with the Woodward-Warren Company, is now manager of the Whitney Players. He says the Whitneys are scoring a big success everywhere. You may expect a good entertainment at the academy tonight.

J. M. Jenkins left this morning for Charlotte to manage, for the present, the Charlotte Pressing Club. He was accompanied by Charles Burgin, formerly with the Stock Exchange here, who will be his assistant. These are bright, industrious young men, and we wish much success for them in lively Charlotte.

Mr. A. W. Palmer, who broke his leg here last Saturday, and Mrs. Palmer, who has been with him for the past two days, left at noon today for their home in Winston. Mr. Palmer, of course, will not be able to walk for several weeks, but was able to be taken home on a cot. His many friends here hope for him a speedy and entire recovery.

Mr. T. P. Langdon, formerly president of the Cumnock Coal Mining company, but who is now opening another mine in Chatham county, passed through the city last night returning to Philadelphia from Chatham. He was accompanied by Messrs. A. H. Avant and W. L. Kriebel, capitalists of Philadelphia, who have been prospecting in the coal mining districts.

They are nearly all winter weight shoes, the fifty pairs men's sample and broken size shoes worth $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, etc. advertised at $1 98 choice at Thacker & Brockmann's. Just the thing for this spell of weather.

Found Them to be the Best.

Before booking the Louise Brehany Ballad and Opera Concert Company, that is to appear here in the academy of music, next Wednesday night, Feb. 8th, Prof. Chas. J. Brockmann fully satisfied himself of the ability of this attraction, and the fact that they are coming here not on a chance contract, but for a large amount of money, is sufficient for those who know Professor Brockmann, to satisfy them that the Brehany Company is one of the very best. And the price is fixed in reach of all, 25, 50 and 75c. The only regret we will have, is the house is not sufficiently large to hold the people.
